

Finding an advocate

Advocacy Services Directory

Advonet provides a central point of contact for people in the city who are looking for advocacy. If you are looking for an advocate for yourself, a friend, a family member, or for someone with whom you work then this Advocacy Services Directory should help.

In Leeds, different advocacy providers have developed for different groups of people who feel they are being ignored, overlooked or treated badly.

Most services work with a clearly defined client group &ndash; for this reason the directory has been organised into groups. You can also search for services using our A-Z.

If you are having trouble locating the best service for you or require more information about the services on offer please contact Advonet at:

office@advonet.org.uk or telephone 0113 244 9045.

A leaflet version of the Directory is also available on request from Advonet. To receive a copy please Contact us.

organisations mentioned. They have all signed up to

The Leeds Standards which aim to safeguard access to high quality advocacy in Leeds.